

Infection prevention and control action ranked as #1 most important	No. of responses
Hand hygiene	228
Advocating for the patient to prevent healthcare-associated infections (e.g., asking those who don't perform hand hygiene to do so, pushing for the removal of invasive lines)	36
Standard precautions	20
Following evidence-based procedures, protocols, and guidelines for care of IVs, central lines, urinary catheters, and other invasive devices	15
Taking responsibility to ensure a clean workspace and a clean patient environment	13
Proper donning and doffing of personal protective equipment (PPE) such as gowns, masks, gloves, and goggles	6
Appropriate use of antibiotics	5
Appropriate and timely decontamination of the patient's equipment and environment	1
Total	324

Infection prevention and control practice ranked as #1 most frequently missed	No. of responses
Hand hygiene	98
Advocating for the patient to prevent healthcare-associated infections (e.g., asking those who don't perform hand hygiene to do so, pushing for the removal of invasive lines)	79
Appropriate use of antibiotics	22
Taking responsibility to ensure a clean workspace and a clean patient environment	22
Appropriate and timely decontamination of the patient's equipment and environment	21
Proper donning and doffing of personal protective equipment (PPE) such as gowns, masks, gloves, and goggles	18
Following evidence-based procedures, protocols, and guidelines for care of IVs, central lines, urinary catheters, and other invasive devices	15
Standard precautions	9
Total	284

