

Opportunities for Engagement with ANA-Michigan

2025 Town Hall Series

ANA-Michigan (ANA-MI) is committed to engaging with Michigan nurses to share valuable information and gain insight into the critical issues impacting nursing professionals today.

Our virtual town halls provide an open, informal forum where you can voice your thoughts, share your experiences, and offer suggestions on ways to improve nursing in Michigan. These interactive sessions are designed to foster meaningful discussions and ensure that nurses have a platform to be heard.

Our goal is to support Michigan's nurses while developing initiatives and setting objectives that align with ANA-MI mission and vision. Your input is invaluable in shaping the future of nursing—join us and be part of the conversation!

Empower Leader Series

The ANA-MI Empowered Leader Series (ELS) is designed for nurses interested in and/or involved in leadership to explore evidence-based practices with leadership experts as well as to learn how to apply practical leadership strategies within their teams. Through the ELS, participants will have opportunities for self-assessment and self-reflection with highly interactive groups sessions built with a focus on challenging and realistic work situations on critical healthcare topics. Through the ELS series of seven virtual sessions, each cohort will be equipped with the knowledge, skills, and competencies needed to lead effectively in the challenging times that healthcare faces.

The Empowered Leader Series is designed for all levels of nursing leaders from all practice areas throughout the continuum of care. Groups of leaders from the same organization are encouraged to attend this seven-week, virtual leadership series.

The 2025 Empowered Leader Series has been postponed until the fall. Learn more about the ELS by visiting our website. ■
